Purpose

Promote interest in the CASFM organization and their goals among students and the engineering community. Applicants must be enrolled in an undergraduate program closely related to CASFM's goals at a college or university in Colorado at the sophomore or junior level and be registered to take at least 10 credit hours of coursework per semester. Eligible programs of study include, but are not limited to: civil engineering, environmental engineering, hydrology, hydraulics, watershed management, floodplain management, stormwater management, stormwater quality, emergency response, meteorology, and climatology. The scholarship recipient will also have the option to make a brief presentation on their research project at 2025 CASFM Conference. Registration and three nights' lodging at the conference is included if the recipient commits to accepting the award at the CASFM annual lunch meeting at the conference. Visit www.casfm.org for more information.

Selection Process

Previous Undergraduate Scholarship recipients are not eligible. Three applicants will be short-listed based on this application and a short essay (up to 500 words; attach to application) describing their personal and career goals and how they relate to the goals of CASFM. Preference will be given to local applicants. Short-listed applicants will be notified by November 15th. A panel will hold a short (approximately 20 minute) interview with short-listed applicants in mid-November. The successful candidate will be notified by December 2nd. Funds will be disbursed by check directly to the student.
